SPIRITS

SINGLE MALT 30ML

To earn the revered title of single malt Scotch, a whisky must be born in the heart of a single Scottish distillery, crafted solely from malted barley, yeast, and pure water, and nurtured in a copper pot still. But that's just the beginning of its journey. It must then rest and mature in an oak cask for a minimum of three years and a day, finally emerging with a bold spirit that's no less than 40% ABV—a testament to its rich heritage and meticulous craft.

AMERICAN WHISKEY

The United States is home to a staggering 1,950 distilleries—nearly 15 times more than Scotland! With American oak as their go-to, most American whiskeys tend to embrace a sweeter side, bursting with rich notes of vanilla and caramel. It's a flavor profile as bold and diverse as the country itself, a true celebration of American craftsmanship.

COGNAC 30ML

Cognac is a distinguished brandy that takes its name from its birthplace in France. French law protects this heritage, allowing only brandy crafted from the wine of the Ugni Blanc grape within this region to proudly bear the name Cognac. It's a spirit rooted in tradition and terroir, offering a true taste of French elegance.

ARMAGNAC 30ML

Armagnac is a brandy with its own distinct character, hailing from the Armagnac region in France. Unlike Cognac, it's crafted from up to four permitted grape varieties and is distilled just once, giving it a richer, more complex flavor. These differences make Armagnac a bold, expressive spirit, offering a deeper and more nuanced experience than its more famous cousin.

CALVADOS & EAU DE VIE 30ML

Calvados is a distinctive type of brandy, or eau-de-vie, that proudly carries the name of its home region in Normandy. Unlike its celebrated French cousins like Cognac and Armagnac, Calvados is crafted from apple cider—or pears, in the Domfrontais area. After distillation, this spirited apple essence must age for at least two years before it can be officially called Calvados, capturing the true taste of Normandy's orchards.
